

ISNVD 2024

The ISNVD 2024 Annual Conference was successfully held in Zhengzhou, China, 25-27 October, 2024.

The event attracted approximately 300 participants from around the world, demonstrating the continued growth and expanding influence of the ISNVD.

We were honored to host 32 distinguished speakers from China, the United States, Denmark, and Italy, who shared their expertise through insightful and impactful presentations. The conference provided a valuable platform for fruitful academic exchanges, promoting in-depth discussions on the latest research advances, clinical practices, and innovative technologies in the field of neurovascular diseases. We extend our sincere gratitude to all attendees, speakers, and organizers for their contributions to making this event a great success.
