

Nivedita Agarwal, MD.

Nivedita Agarwal is double-boarded neurologist and neuroradiologist working for Rovereto Hospital, Azienda Provinciale per i Servizi Sanitari in Italy.

She is a medical director of the 3T research facility at the University of Trento and holds an adjunct professor in the Department of Radiology, subsection of Neuroradiology of the University of Utah since 2010 with special teaching responsibilities that include neuroanatomy. Dr. Agarwal has spent several years in Boston and in Utah participating in multiple clinical research projects looking at MR biomarkers of disease such as depression, bipolar disease and Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis. Dr. Agarwal is an active member of ISMRM and subserves the Annual Meeting Program Committee (AMPC). Her recent research activities include driving MR research in the study of perivascular spaces and imaging of the dynamics of CNS fluids. Dr. Agarwal has authored several scientific articles in peer-reviewed journals, has been an invited speaker at national and international scientific meetings.

Dr. Agarwal will hold a talk entitled "Vascular anatomy of the brain: macro and microvasculature".